○Characteristics of Sendai City

Sendai is a city with a population of one million, and is the political, economic, and academic center of Japan's Tohoku (northeast) Region. Because many established universities are located in Sendai, it is famously known as the "Gakuto-Academic City".

The Sendai coastal area was hit by a massive tsunami caused by a big earthquake on Mar.11th 2011. However, damage in the inland area, including the heart of Sendai City and MUE, were relatively small.

People's life is back on track again.

The Fukushima Nuclear Accident doesn't severely influence Sendai, which is well within the safe zone. The city works as the FOB(Forward Operation Base) for resilience from damages in the coastal Tohoku region.

Tokyo University of Foreign Studies(Tokyo)

Intensive Japanese Teacher Training on a Multilingual and Multicultural Campus

◇University Overview

Working toward international recognition as a center for Japanese language education study and research

Based on the Grand Design for Tokyo University of Foreign Studies (TUFS) that outlines the university's educational and research goals, we are committed to becoming an internationally acclaimed center for the study and research of the Japanese language and Japanese language education.

In 1970, the Japanese Language Center for International Students (JLC) of TUFS began teaching Japanese language courses for international students on scholarships from the Japanese Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science & Technology (MEXT). To date, 2,473 of these students from 126 countries have pursued studies at universities across Japan. The origin of TUFS can be traced as far back as 1857 (the late Edo Period in Japan) when it was the Institute for Research of Foreign Documents (Bansho Shirabesho). The Tokyo School of Foreign Languages (Tokyo Gaikokugo Gakko) established in 1899 was the predecessor to TUFS.

In addition to the Masters and Doctoral Programs of the Graduate School of Area and Culture Studies, the JLC, and the Research Institute for Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa, the new School of Language and Culture Studies and the School of International and Area Studies will open in April 2012. Programs offered at TUFS will cover the study of all major languages, cultures, and societies across the globe, as well as international relations and related research, thus giving TUFS a unique positioning among Japanese universities.

Number of students (as of May 1, 2016)

Undergraduate: 3,858 Graduate 529 Total 5,773

Overseas students: 1,386

Number of Teacher Training Students: 84 since 2003

◇Program Overview

1. Characteristics of the program

This program will give students who have majored in Japanese language education and/or related areas, specialized trainings (e.g. teaching methods and Japanese culture for teaching in secondary education) according to their learning level and based on their research agenda. Also, the program aims to ameliorate students' Japanese skills.

2. Number of students to be accepted: 10 students

3. Japanese language classes

Based on individual needs, students will enroll in the "TUFS Japanese Language Program" (JLPTUFS) for one to three semesters (6-18 months). The program consists of eight levels that can accommodate varying language proficiencies.

4. Specialized training

JLCTUFS will provide specific instructors for teacher training students. These instructors will guide the students through this one and a half year course and help them to reach their goals.

Phase 1 (October 2017 – March 2018)

Students will study intensively in the "JLPTUFS" and enhance their Japanese language skills. Based on level, they will also be able to take specialized courses such as Japanese language education and Japanese society. Those students who enter at a high Japanese language skill level will be able to begin specialized study immediately.

Phase 2 (April 2018– September 2018)

Phase 2 will include teaching methods designed for teaching Japanese language abroad and training courses geared to experiencing Japanese culture. Students will continue taking Japanese language in the "JLPTUFS" and major subjects. Students who have sufficient Japanese language abilities will be able to attend courses in the university's undergraduate and graduate programs.

Phase 3 (October 2018– March 2019)

In Phase 3, students will demonstrate their achievements through the creation of reports or educational materials. Students are expected to learn from one another as well as from the special instruction course, which includes teaching sample lessons. In addition, students will visit and write reports about the neighboring elementary schools and secondary school that use progressive education models. Students will continue JLC's courses and may also attend courses in the university's programs.

University of Fukui	20001	Shoichi YANAGISAWA (Professor)	yanagi@f-edu.u-fukui.ac.jp	Teacher education, Lifelong learning	This course, designed specifically for school teachers, is offered by instructors of the Professional Development of Teachers Program in the Graduate School of Education, University of Fukui. In order for teachers to acquire expertise, it is important that teachers put them in a practice-reflection-reconstruction cycle and that they reframe school as a learning community. Taking that into consideration, University of Fukui adopts "school-based method" before other universities in the world, and offers practical teacher education. Our objective is to be a graduate school where teachers work cooperatively with their colleagues to solve problems at school. When a problem occurs at the classroom, for example, instructors at University of Fukui and teachers at affiliated schools work together to tackle the problem, reflect the process, work on a research report, and deepen the understanding in a roundtable conference with other universities. There are instructors in various fields. Students can receive multi-disciplinary research instruction from team teaching in the program. International students are expected to visit the actual classroom at affiliated schools with UF instructors, do research on classroom teaching, and receive training at affiliated schools. ◇ Outline of the course for Teacher Training students

○ Characteristics of the program

The teacher-training program at Hyogo University of Teacher Education (HUTE) is designed for school teachers from foreign countries (referred to as international school teachers) seeking for higher levels of pedagogical competence and abilities. This program provides a broad range of opportunities for interdisciplinary study and research in school education. The Graduate School teaching staff are experts in all fields of school education and provide research opportunities to meet the needs and interests of the international school teachers.

○ Number of students to be accepted : 7

○ Outline of the course

<Japanese language education> October 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018 (6 months)

The international school teachers are required to take the Japanese Language Course at an institute (usually at Kobe University) for 6 months: October 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018. Then, supplementary classes for Japanese language are offered at HUTE (once a week): April, 2018 – March, 2019. “Current State of Education in Japan” (30 hours) is also provided in the Graduate School: April 1, 2018 – March 31, 2019.

<Specialized training Professional studies> April 1, 2017 – March 31, 2018 (One year)

Each international school teacher pursues his or her professional training according to his or her individual program; taking classes with Japanese graduate/undergraduate students, special classes in English, if necessary, a special seminar under the guidance of the international school teacher's academic supervisor, and educational practicum at the university's attached elementary and secondary schools. The program is based on the international teacher's academic interests, Japanese language ability, and professional competence. Since most classes are conducted in Japanese, it is desirable to achieve a certain level of Japanese language ability through the six months of language training in Japan. It is possible, however, to complete studies in English in some fields.

○ Characteristics of the Program:

The Faculty of Education and Graduate School of Education are prestigious institutes in the area of education in Japan. We have nurtured not only a great number of leading teachers for preschools, primary schools, junior and senior high schools, and special needs schools, but also researchers in the areas of educational studies, curriculum and instruction, psychology, teaching Japanese as a second language.

The Faculty of Education and Graduate School of Education are active in international exchange program recently and regularly with over 170 international students on campus. We also have accepted a total number of 331 teacher training students from different countries since this program started. We provide for individual guidance and instruction in responding to each specialty and interest of overseas teachers as well as Japanese Language/Japanese Affairs in this program.

○ Number of overseas teachers to be accepted: 30

○ Outline of the Course

Preparatory Japanese language education:

A six-month intensive Japanese language course at the elementary level is offered in International Center (about 30 hours of instruction per week).

As long as main supervisor approve that teacher training student has enough Japanese proficiency, they could be admitted directly into academic training (if necessary, with the intermediate or advanced Japanese Language/Japanese Affairs course) for one and a half year without the above-mentioned intensive language course.

Academic training:

We provide for individual academic tutoring by main supervisor and conduct in-depth research on respective training themes during one-year academic training. At the end of the course, teacher training students are required to submit their final report as a part of their course work.

Participatory programs on international exchange and etc.

Extra-curricular activities and cultural programs with Japanese students will be organized at International Center such as school visits, exchange programs, tours to historical places in Hiroshima.

◇ Follow-up for Graduates

Main supervisor will conduct follow-up activities for graduates rather than institutional activities. All the graduates are actively working in their own country as a leading teachers with high expertise.

◇ Accommodation

The increase in the number of international students at Hiroshima University might cause that it is not always possible to find any suitable accommodation in one of the university dormitories. Kagawa University (hereafter, KU) was established in 1949 as a national university. In October 2003, KU merged with Kagawa Medical University to form the new comprehensive 'Kagawa University'. Currently, the university has six faculties (Education, Law, Economics, Medicine, Engineering, and Agriculture). All the six faculties have their respective master programs. In addition, the university also offers the professional MBA master program. Doctoral programs are offered in the Medicine, Engineering and Agriculture faculties.

• Geographical characteristic

• Kagawa Prefecture is situated on the north east of Shikoku. It faces the Seto Inland Sea, has four seasons with little rain and comparatively warm winters. The most famous product of Kagawa is probably 'udon', a thick noodle made from wheat, but she is also well known for olives and fans.

• Takamatsu city, where KU is located, is a compact, mid-sized city that is bicycle-friendly. The city is reputed to have the longest shopping (pedestrian) arcade in Japan. This arcade is lined with many shops of interest to both the young and the old. The climate of Kagawa is not harsh and international students find it 'easy' to adapt to.
